THE 1963 PEERAGE

PRINCE GEORGE HIGH SCHOOL
Prince George, Virginia

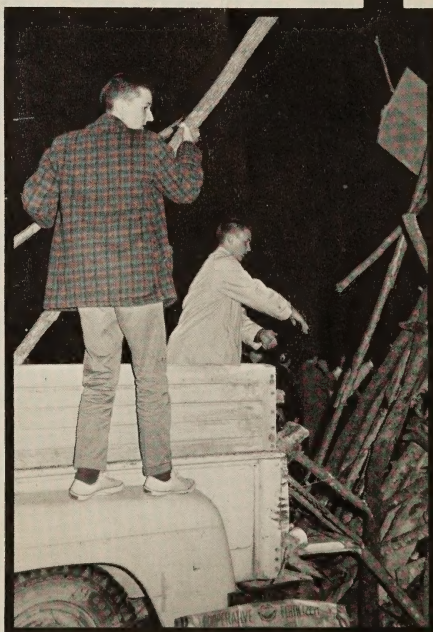

Moments
of Planning . . .

Working for . . .

All Those Pleasurable Moments . . .

All tasks are completed, and everyone eagerly awaits the outcome of his preparation and planning. Having practiced diligently for the games, the teams, cheerleaders, and band enjoy the participation and spirit of friendly comradeship upon the actual occurring of the events. The exciting thrill of receiving their class rings highlighted by the annual presentation at the Ring Dance fulfilled the anticipations of the graduating seniors. The 1962 Homecoming festivities still remain memorable in the hearts of Prince George students and graduates.

Recognizing the fact that only through the undying spirit, unselfish giving of time and effort, and loyal service of each and every member of the school - student, teacher, and administrator - could these activities have been successful, we remind the reader that the love of the student body is pictured in tangible evidence in these pages.

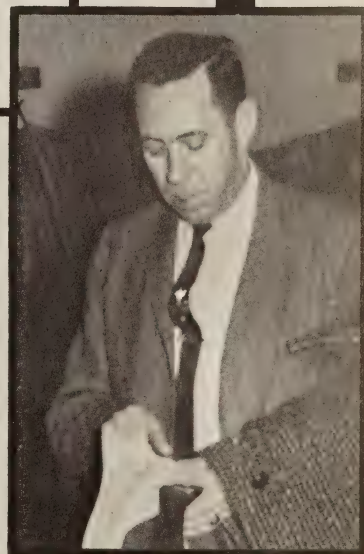

Prince George High School welcomes a newcomer, Mr. James Otto Morehead, to the head administrative position of our county school system. Having recently accepted this office in Prince George County, Superintendent Morehead has proved a competent and able individual who understands the needs and complexities of a progressive educational curriculum.

In the professional field, Mr. Morehead has served in various capacities: principal, assistant principal, and classroom teacher. Prior to joining our school system, he acted as Superintendent of Bland County Public Schools, Vice-President of the Virginia Educational Association, and Regional Secretary of the Southwest Virginia Superintendent Association. In civic activities, Mr. Morehead has illustrated a considerable amount of interest in bettering community and school standards through active membership in such organizations as the Ruritans, Lions, and Masons.

In reference to qualified leadership in the past and in recognition of the improvements in the school policies and curriculum which Mr. Morehead has already instituted in the brief amount of time which he has been with us, we, the Peerage Staff and students of Prince George High School, extend a friendly greeting to one who we feel certain is deserving of our respect.

We Dedicate to R. Graydon Deloatche

The filling of the position of Guidance Director is an exacting and difficult task, yet one that is compatible to a man of deep convictions and a warm heart. Such a man is Mr. R. Graydon DeLoatche, to whom the 1963 Peerage is dedicated.

The 1963 Peerage Staff feels in accordance with the student body that Mr. DeLoatche is highly deserving of this recognition. He has been willing to help any student in all ways possible and has given freely of his time, effort and self to everyone at Prince George. His fine qualities of friendliness, generosity, and sincerity have earned him the respect and admiration of each student and graduate of the high school. He has never been too busy to help anyone with plans for a future college or business career or a new student with his schedule.

It is with the greatest pleasure and sincerity, therefore, that we, the yearbook staff, present the 1963 Peerage to Mr. R. Graydon DeLoatche, with the regret only that we cannot further express our deep gratitude to him or impress upon him just how much his guidance and loyalty to the student is appreciated.

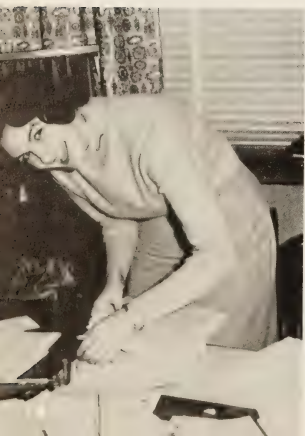

Administration and Faculty

Mr. Richard McNeal Jewell became Principal of Prince George High School in the fall of 1959. Mr. Jewell received his Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Education and also his Master of Education degree from Virginia Polytechnic Institute. Having formerly taught vocational agriculture, and having served as a guidance counselor and assistant principal at Gloucester High School, Mr. Jewell has devoted several years to the field of learning and knowledge.

"Daddy Jewell," as he is sometimes called by the students, is an understanding friend to many seniors as they come and go. Prince George High School has become an integral part of his life, and he has become a memorable and admirable figure in the hearts of its graduates.

Miss Marie Armstrong, a graduate of Prince George High School, skillfully and cheerfully engages in her daily routine of serving as the private secretary of Mr. Jewell, Mr. DeLoatche, and Mr. Buffo. She also acts as a substitute teacher and president of the Teacher's Complaint Department.

Mr. Thomas George, Assistant Principal, Athletic Director, and sponsor of the National Honor Society, received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Social Studies from East Carolina College and his Master of Education degree in Administration from the College of William and Mary.

Mr. George has been a member of the faculty and administrative body for an accumulative seven years. The friendliness and interest demonstrated through his unceasing effort for school improvement, athletic progress, and teacher-student harmony . . . all illustrate the devotion which he unselfishly yields to the promotion of any school function or activity. His witty remarks and warm smile disrupt the monotony of school and enlighten the morale of the students.

Mrs. Patricia Padgett, a newcomer in Mr. George's office, easily and efficiently learns to conform to the general pattern of confusion, mislaid papers, and shortage of time in meeting the many demands of the faculty and administration.

Mr. Ralph G. Deloatche, who now serves Prince George as the school's Guidance Director, received his B. A. degree from Georgetown University. He later was awarded his M. Ed. degree from the College of William and Mary, and since that time has been in the educational and administrative field for eleven years.

Mr. John D. Buffo, who fills the position of Prince George Guidance Counselor, received his B. S. degree from Centenary College of Louisiana and his M. Ed. degree from Pennsylvania State University. He has been in the educational and guidance field for four years.

Mighty Royals

The opening of the 1962-63 football season marked the beginning of the Prince George Royals' competition in the Central District, Group IA. Although the Royals did not have a winning season, they offered strong opposition to the Central District teams, and defeated three out of four Group II schools on the schedule. These were Franklin, James Blair, and Emporia. On October 12, the Royals journeyed to Franklin, Virginia, and tallied up 39 points to the Broncos' 7. Two weeks later, on the 26th, they played host to James Blair and won their first home game with a score of 25-0. The last of the Group II victories came on the 9th of November when the P. G. team traveled to Emporia and defeated them by a score of 20-0. Also, in Group II, the Royals were beaten, 12-6, by the Colonials, State Champions in their group this year.

On the Group I level, P.G. faced George Wythe in Richmond, Virginia, on Sept. 22, and were taken by a score of 12-6. The 28th of September found them at Hopewell for a game against the Devils. Even though the Royals led the way throughout the first three quarters, Hopewell came from behind and won with a score of 28-12.

Other Central District game results were as follows:

Oct. 5	Thomas Dale	39	Prince George	14	Home
Oct. 19	Douglas Freeman	38	Prince George	14	Home
Nov. 2	Petersburg	25	Prince George	7	Away

The final game of the season was played against Lane High School of Charlottesville, which ranks as one of the top ten teams in Virginia. Although the Royals lost 20-12, the coaching staff felt that the entire team displayed maximum effort and competitive spirit.

The Prince George Royals, led by Coach John Sapon, met with the Central District this year in many thrilling games. Although their record does not show a winning season, both the team members and coach felt that they offered stiff competition to the opposing teams, and learned a great deal about sportsmanship from these games. Supported by the cheerleaders and students, the Royals sought to put forth their best effort in each game.

Pre-game . . .

Prince George Royals

1962-63

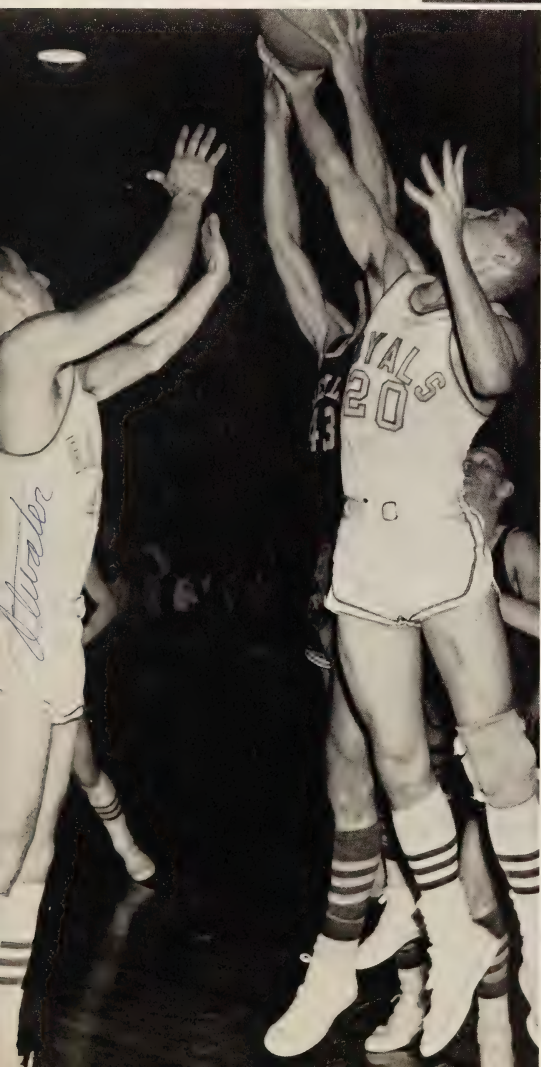

Mr. John Sapon, who coached the Prince George Royals this year, is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He joined our coaching staff in the fall of 1961, serving during that school term as J. V. Basketball coach and Varsity Baseball coach. Prior to joining the Prince George faculty, Mr. Sapon taught at Lee High School and Stanton Junior High School.

Although the record of the Royals this year did not gain the team a high position in the Central District line-up, Coach Sapon feels that the boys learned a lot about the most important aspects of basketball: sportsmanship and fair play.

Coach Sapon reminds the boys to constantly play their best. "It is not the winning or the losing of the game that matters," said Sapon. "It's how you play the game that really counts."

The Royals put up an impressive battle with stiff competition as their major weakness.

ACTION!!

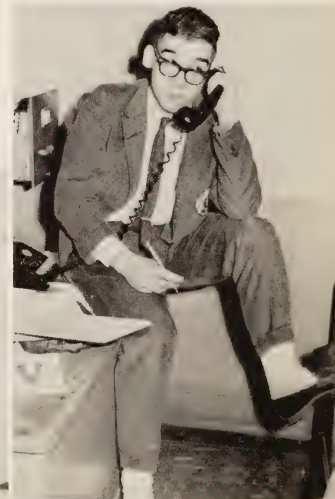

Immediately prior to the Prince George - Lane game, co-captains of both teams display a spirit of friendliness and good sportsmanship.

A lost contact lens brings the game to a sudden halt.

Prince George's Junior Varsity gave a good indication for future success this past season by displaying a great deal of fine basketball talent and spirit. With these boys moving up to play Varsity ball next season, the prospect of a better Group 1-A district record is certainly evident.

Coach Fred Gandt relaxes after a full day's schedule, teaching and practicing.

BETTY SCARBOROUGH - MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

Betty Scarborough, a senior, was elected by her teammates as the "Most Valuable Player" this year. Betty has been a member of the Royalettes for three years, one as manager and two years as a player. She played a roving guard position and showed both defensive and offensive ability. Betty's outstanding athletic ability and good sportsmanship will be greatly missed in the future.

SCA

The S. C. A. of Prince George High School has been a very active organization this year. Its inherent purpose is to better the school through the work of the student body. For the S. C. A. to accomplish this goal it must have the total co-operation of each student. The executive committee, with the aid of the homeroom representatives, serves only as a delegation and voice of the students; the support of the entire school is needed for any project to be completed.

The S. C. A. is headed by John McBroom and sponsored by Miss Martin. It is the origin of most of the school's committees for both social and academic activities.

Every student at Prince George should be proud to be an active part of the Student Co-operative Association of Prince George High School.

Sponsor Miss Martin

New to the Student Co-Operative Association this year was Miss Martin, the sponsor. Miss Martin has been a long time member of the Prince George faculty; therefore, she knows the problems of the school. This understanding is needed for an effective SCA, and Miss Martin has given Prince George just that. The SCA not only meets every two weeks, but is constantly working everyday to better the school. A sponsor's duty is to see that a job is done correctly. She must be a leader, so that she is able to guide the executive committee in the right direction. To undertake this responsibility, one must have patience along with ability, for it is a long and tiring duty. Because Miss Martin possesses these qualifications, the SCA is fortunate to have her as their sponsor.

Miss Martin is always seen around Prince George busily working on the many activities of the SCA.

Committees

Hospitality Committee

The Hospitality Committee of 1962-63, headed by Susan Kline, was responsible for several duties during the year. These included the orientation of new students in the summer and seventh graders in the spring, Twirp Week activities, and the scheduling of receptionists for the year.

School Improvement Committee

The main objective of this committee is to improve the school in any way possible. It is in charge of setting up a system to promote safety in the halls and stairs each year. The School Improvement Committee changes the Honor Roll board each six weeks. Also, they are in charge of the menu board in the cafeteria. Mike Bogese served as the committee's head for 1962-63.

Assembly Committee

The 1962-63 Assembly Committee was headed by Judy Galderise. During the summer, the members scheduled a calendar of assemblies for the entire school year. In addition, they have had the duty of setting up a system which enabled all classes to enter assemblies orderly. Throughout the year, the Assembly Committee has worked very hard in planning the various assemblies held at Prince George.

Handbook Committee

THE SCEPTER

1962-1963

Under the leadership of Kathy Hill, the Handbook Committee composed and published The Scepter, which was distributed to the student body the first day of school. The Scepter contains information about the rules, organizations, and courses offered at P. G. H. S.

Scrapbook Committee

The Scrapbook Committee under the direction of Juanita Cameron, records the daily events and activities of Prince George High School. The Scrapbook will remain at the school as a lasting reminder of the 1962-63 school year.

School Spirit Committee

The School Spirit Committee, under the direction of Edwina Moore and Pam Grisnik, has an important job at Prince George. Everyone on this committee, including the cheerleaders, is in charge of promoting school spirit in all athletic events. They have done this by making posters, which informed the students of the games each week. Another one of the jobs the School Spirit Committee has undertaken this year for the first time is laying the foundation for obeying the Central District Sportsmanship Code.

Co-Chairmen:
Edwina Moore
Pam Grisnik

Devotional Committee

The purpose of the Devotional Committee, headed by Candy Flagg, is to present morning devotions daily throughout the entire school year. The committee presents these with the belief that the prayers will help start every students' day in a pleasant manner and with a worthwhile thought.

Social Committee

Chairman:
Joe Stroud

The Social Committee, headed by Joe Stroud, is one of the most important committees at Prince George. It functions as the organizer of all the social events that are sponsored by the SCA. Examples of these activities are the annual Ring Dance and Homecoming ceremonies. This committee is vital to the SCA and to the school.

Radio Committee

Chairman:

Gary Drackett

The Radio Committee, although organized fairly recently, has become a part of the Prince George students' daily school life. During the four lunch blocks WPGH, headed by Gary Drackett, plays the current hit records and makes announcements about the coming activities of the school. These functions are both entertaining and informative to P. G. H. S.

Receptionists

The Receptionists serve Prince George by giving information to students and receiving visitors to the school. Chosen by the Hospitality Committee, these students work during their free period in the main lobby.

Homecoming

The 1962 Homecoming presentations were made in an impressive half-time show during the Prince George-Thomas Dale football game on October 5. Four candidates were selected by the football team, then voted upon by their respective classes. The winning candidates were formally announced in a beautiful ceremony unprecedented in the history of Prince George. The band, under the direction of John V. Mazza, formed a green heart around the candidates, who were presented to the Prince George spectators in convertibles. This field formation was enhanced by a golden arrow of majorettes which ran through the center of the heart.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the queen, who, surrounded by her attendants, ascended the Royal Throne to reign as the 1962 Homecoming Queen.

Miss Shirley Crocker

Pictured above is Mr. Richard M. Jewell, principal, crowning Miss Shirley Crocker as the 1962 Homecoming Queen at the half-time ceremony of the Prince George-Thomas Dale game. Miss Crocker, a petite seventeen year old senior, has attended Prince George for five years, and has been very active in school affairs. She has served as cheerleader, secretary of the Monogram Club, and also as secretary of her junior and senior class. This blue-eyed brunette reigns over Prince George as the Royal Queen for 1962-1963.

The Royal Court

Miss Cusick, the Senior Attendant, is a majorette and Starlette. She is also a member of the annual staff and Monogram Club.

Miss Mazza, the lead Majorette of the Royal Band and of the Starlettes, is the Junior Attendant. She is also a member of the Monogram Club.

The Sophomore Attendant, Miss Edwina Moore, is a varsity Cheerleader, treasurer of her class, and chairman of the S. C. A. School Spirit Committee.

Miss Livesay, the Freshman Attendant, is a junior varsity cheerleader and the president of her class.

POISON???

An annual event sponsored by the SCA, which gives the Prince George girl a chance to be with the boy of her choice for five days, is TWIRP WEEK. On this occasion, a girl may "tag" a boy, showing that his heart belongs to her for that week.

After the scramble to tag the boy is completed on Monday, every following day entails a job for the girls, such as bringing the boy's lunch to school. The climax of TWIRP WEEK is the dress-alike day, Friday, crowned by a soc hop that night.

At this dance, the cutest dressed couple is chosen and

Monogram Club

The Monogram Club sponsored a special project this year. With the aid of the profits received from their football advertisements, the club members purchased jackets for the boys and blazers for the girls. The jackets are dark green with white leather sleeves, and the blazers are white with a Prince George Emblem on the pocket.

The annual project of the Prince George Monogram Club is the selling of advertisements to merchants throughout the Tri-City area. These advertisements appear in the schedules sold at each football game. Through this sale, the Club acquired sufficient earnings to sponsor their activities for the year.

SCHOLARSHIP, LEADERSHIP, CHARACTER, and SERVICE - these qualities are desired by every individual, but possessed by few. The National Honor Society recognizes these outstanding students who are invaluable to the support of our school. The purpose of such a society is to promote and establish in the minds of the students a personal conception of the value of honor in all phases of life - academic, moral, and social.

Membership in this society is determined by the academic standing of the student and the personal service which he renders to the school. The student must have contributed to the growth and betterment of the school and enriched life at Prince George by his presence here.

THE PRINCE GEORGE BAND HISTORY

The Prince George High School Royal Band had its beginning in September of 1953 under the guidance and leadership of their present director, John V. Mazza. The students are first taught the basic fundamentals of instrumental music and then taught to play everything from Bach to Cole Porter to Modern swing.

The band is divided into several units on different grade levels of musical abilities which feed into this 130 member group. There are over 200 music students in this school plus over 200 in the county elementary school.

These bands have participated in over 60 concerts, 150 athletic events and over hundreds of parades, have traveled thousands of miles and have performed for millions of viewers and listeners over national TV and Radio.

Attired in gold sequin outfits topped with matching crowns, the Starlettes gave their first performance at Waverly. Their leader, Vicky Mazza, was dressed in a contrasting silver outfit.

The Starlettes performed throughout the football season at the half-time shows with the P. G. H. S. Band.

The climax of their season was the presentation of the half-time ceremony at the Baltimore Colts-Minnesota Vikings professional football game in Baltimore, Maryland.

The sponsor, Miss Laura Cliborne, educates her members in the new business practices and step-by-step illustrations of the latest business standards. Miss Cliborne teaches typing and book-keeping.

The purpose of the F. B. L. A. is to acquaint the student with the present trends in the business world and to prepare the student for a career in the commercial field. This organization is designed to develop within its members a strong sense of character and leadership that will enable them to become familiar with the high professional standards and expectations of the future. It is desired, of course, that these students further pursue the field of business education in college; however, many graduates have been quite successful in obtaining secretarial positions without extended training.
